We know choosing your child's school is a really important decision for you and so we want to share some information about Hallam Fields Junior School which is available online and to offer you the opportunity to arrange a visit so you can see the school in person. In order to help you decide whether Hallam Fields is the right school for your child, we would like to offer the opportunity to come and have a look around and meet us with your child after school. On our website you can also find lots of information about us. Please click on any of the text in yellow to take you to the relevant information.
